Up-lift collection

by NEISAKO

Up-lift represents innovation in the segment of the armchair typology with an integrated bed. Its shape allows for transformation through the simple lift (up) of the back rest, which automatically lifts (lift) the bottom part of the bed, while maintaining an optimal height. Its form consists of the two volumes, which by the eccentric principle rotate around each other, thus forming a harmonious unit in both positions. The armrest is rounded as it took over the function of the wheel, and the backrest is tilted and rounded to minimise the necessary volume. Up-lift has a distinctive character due to its roundness.
